Introduction

The practices of audiology and speech-language pathology are governed under The Regulated Health Professions Act (“RHPA”), the College of Audiologists and Speech-Language Pathologists of Manitoba General Regulation 192/2013, and the Practice of Audiology and Practice of Speech-Language Pathology Regulation 191/2013.

Important highlights related to registration:

1. To practice in Manitoba as an audiologist or speech-language pathologist, you must be a member of the College of Audiologists and Speech-Language Pathologists of Manitoba (CASLPM).
2. Only members of the College may use the professional titles. (e.g., Audiologist, Aud., Registered Audiologist, R. Aud., Speech-Language Pathologist, SLP, Registered Speech-Language Pathologist, RSLP, Speech Therapist, ST, Registered Speech Therapist, RST, Speech-Language Therapist, Registered Speech-Language Therapist, RSLT, Speech-Language Clinician, SLC, Registered Speech-Language Clinician, RSLC; or the equivalent of those titles and abbreviations in another language.)
3. The College is a self-regulatory body, meaning that the government grants a group of professionals, along with representatives of the public, to have the authority to set and enforce standards for the profession. More information can be found on the CASLPM website, under Self-Regulation.
4. The College is responsible for ensuring that everyone who is registered is qualified.
5. The College will assess applications in accordance with the requirements outlined in the RHPA, General Regulations, CASLPM by-laws, and CASLPM policies.

The College views unauthorized practice very seriously. Failure to register is a significant offence and can result in disciplinary action and/or fines.

CASLPM reserves all rights to review and update its policies. Applicants are responsible for understanding and awareness of the most current policies and are expected to seek assistance if required. Applicants may refer to the CASLPM website for updates and changes (<https://caslpm.ca/>).

The Practices of Audiology and Speech-Language Pathology

Audiology in Canada

Audiologists (AUDs) are hearing health professionals who identify, assess, and provide treatments to individuals with peripheral or central hearing loss, tinnitus, vestibular and balance disorders, and related disorders across the lifespan.

Educational Entry-to-Practice Requirements

A professional master's degree (or equivalent, as determined by a credentialing agency approved by CASLPM) in audiology is required to practice in all regulated Canadian provinces. A professional master's degree is one that qualifies someone to practice audiology in a clinical capacity as opposed to a research capacity. Applicants who intend to complete the Canadian Entry-to-Practice (CETP) Exam* must demonstrate that they possess a professional master's degree from a university program accredited by CACUP, or education that is considered equivalent by CASLPM.

Roles and responsibilities

Audiologists may practice independently and/or within an interprofessional practice framework where they collaborate with other healthcare professionals such as: speech-language pathologists, physicians, nurses, educators, occupational therapists, physiotherapists, psychologists, childcare staff and social workers, as well as communication health assistants. Audiologists may also provide a broad range of other clinical and professional services.

Speech-Language Pathology in Canada

Speech-language pathologists (SLPs) are health professionals who identify, assess, and treat communication, swallowing, and related disorders across the lifespan.

Educational Entry-to-Practice Requirements

A professional master's degree (or equivalent, as determined by a credentialing agency approved by CASLPM) in speech-language pathology is required to practice in all regulated Canadian provinces. A professional master's degree is one that qualifies someone to practice speech-language pathology in a clinical capacity as opposed to a research capacity. Applicants who intend to complete the Canadian Entry-to-Practice (CETP) Exam* must demonstrate that they possess a professional master's degree from a university program accredited by CACUP, or education that is considered equivalent by CASLPM.

Roles and responsibilities

Speech-language pathologists may practice independently and/or within an interprofessional practice framework where they collaborate with other health professionals such as: audiologists, physicians, nurses, educators, dietitians, occupational therapists, physiotherapists, psychologists, childcare staff and social workers, as well as communication health assistants. Speech-language pathologists may also provide a broad range of other clinical and professional services.

What is a Professional Master's Degree?

A professional master's degree must satisfy all the following criteria:

1. The degree must be recognized as a Canadian master's degree (or its equivalent, as determined by an outside credentialing agency).
2. The program must be officially identified as a program whose intent it is to train audiologists or speech-language pathologists.
3. The master's degree program must consist of:
  - a. Coursework completed at a graduate level in audiology or speech-language pathology.
  - b. Supervised practicum appropriate to the practice of audiology or speech-language pathology completed at the graduate level.
  - c. A research component providing study in research techniques and statistical analysis, as well as the design and execution of research related to disorders of hearing functioning or disorders of communication and/or swallowing, completed at the graduate level.

Canadian Educated Applicants

A Canadian educated audiologist or speech-language pathologist should:

1. Visit CACUP-ASLP website to confirm the accreditation status of the educational program. Applicants from Canadian universities not accredited by CACUP must follow the process for internationally educated applicants.

Internationally Educated Applicants

If you are an internationally educated audiologist or speech-language pathologist, intending to practice in Manitoba, you will be required to:

1. Have a credential assessment completed by a third-party agency.
2. Complete language proficiency testing if the program of study was not in English or French.
3. Submit all required documents to CASLPM.

CASLPM will assess your eligibility to write the CETP exam and if eligible, you will be recommended to enroll for the CETP exam and pay the exam fee. If you are not eligible to proceed with the exam, CASLPM will provide you specific information regarding your application. Note: It is not a requirement to write the CETP exam if you are registering with CASLPM until such time as changes are made to the General Regulation. Should these changes be made within your provisional mentorship period, you will be required to take the exam prior to becoming a full regulated registrant.

Internationally trained individuals may prepare for the application process while still enrolled in a program of study or while outside Canada by becoming familiar with Canadian and Manitoban registration requirements and upgrading language skills as needed.

Application Categories for Internationally Educated Applicants

Provisional Regulated Registrant – Newly-graduated international applicants who have completed their education, have not undergone a period of mentorship, and who do not have at least 750 hours of work experience.

This can be accomplished by using the "Summary of Academic Equivalency (AEF)" form, available through the ShareFile link that will be provided to you by the CASLPM office once you have completed your initial application in the Applicant and Registrant portal. Any courses indicated on this form will be verified against your submitted transcripts.

Employer Verification

If you are applying as a Full regulated registrant, you must complete and submit the "Employer Verification" form. This form is not required if you are applying as a Provisional regulated registrant.

The "Employer Verification" form is available through the ShareFile link provided by CASLPM and verifies your professional work history as an Audiologist or Speech-Language Pathologist. This form must be completed by the employer for each place of employment within the last five years.

Course Syllabi

You must submit detailed course descriptions or syllabi; if any course syllabi cannot be provided then the university should contact CASLPM directly stating that. Accepted course outlines/syllabi should include the following:

Transcript and Syllabi Document Translation

Transcripts and course syllabi, received in a language other than English or French, must be translated into English. When CASLPM receives official transcripts or course syllabi from third-party institutions, they will be uploaded to the ShareFile folder and applicants will have access to have them translated. It is the applicant's responsibility to ensure the documents are appropriately translated. CASLPM accepts original document translations from:

- The consulate, high commission, or embassy (in Canada) of the country that issued the documents.
- A Canadian consulate, high commission, or embassy in the country the applicant emigrated from.
- A translator who is certified by a member organization of the Canadian Translators, Terminologists and Interpreters Council (CTIC). A list of member organizations that provide names of certified translators is available and it is the applicant's responsibility to ensure that the translator is a certified member of the organization and certified to translate into English from the language of the document provided.
- A translator accredited by a federal, provincial, or municipal government in Canada.

All translations must be original and accompanied by the translator's statement confirming the following:

- The translation is accurate and authentic.
- The translator belongs to one of the categories listed above (identification number and/or seal, name, address, and telephone number of the translator are required).
- The full, printed name and signature of the translator.

Documents from Third Parties

All third-party agencies must mail, or email required official documents directly to CASLPM.

You will receive a notification when CASLPM receives official third-party documents. You may check ShareFile at any time for your application file status and any updates/changes.

Assessment

Internationally Educated Applicants & Canadian Educated Applicants from Non-Accredited Programs

CASLPM assessors will review applications for "substantial equivalence" to the Canadian Academic Equivalence Framework (AEF). This means that the assessors will review the education, experience, and credentials to determine if they meet CASLPM's registration criteria. The assessment process will begin when all supporting (official) documents are uploaded and received by CASLPM.

- Applicants will receive email notification when a document is received from a third-party institution and has been uploaded to ShareFile.
- Applicants will be able to view the progress and status of the application until all documents are received. The ShareFile is then locked during the Assessors' review.
- Applicants will be notified if any documents or corrections are required.
- Applicants will be notified via email when their application has been assessed and when eligibility to sit for the recommended CEPT examination has been determined.

Timeframes for assessment are dependent on CASLPM receiving all required supporting documents as outlined in this guide and on the ShareFile task list.

Post-Assessment

Possible Assessment Outcomes

1. *Applicant is approved to write the CETP Exam** – If the assessment requirements are met, the applicant will be eligible to write the CETP Exam. Please note that you may be required to write the CETP Exam as a condition of your registration if indicated by the Registrar.
2. Assessment reveals minor gaps – In some cases, the assessment will identify gaps in the education or training, and applicants will be provided the opportunity to rectify these gaps by a specific deadline. Minor gaps include conditions that can be corrected with further information, a language proficiency test, an additional university course, or additional clinical hours. These applications may be forwarded to the Application Review Committee (ARC) as deemed necessary by the Registrar.
3. Assessment reveals major gaps – If qualifications or training are significantly different from the minimal standards for accredited Canadian training programs (e.g., the applicant does not possess a master's degree or equivalent), the application will be forwarded to the ARC by the Registrar for additional review.
4. Applicant is approved to register – Applicants with the requisite education and training, and with verifiable work experience, will be eligible to register as a Full Regulated Registrant. Recent internationally educated graduates without work experience may register as Provisional Registrants.

If the applicant disagrees with the outcome of the assessment and/or review, they may appeal the decision within 30 days of the notice of decision as outlined in the Appeals section of The Regulated Health Professions Act. Fees may apply.

Application Review Committee (ARC)

The Registrar may, at their discretion, forward an application to the Application Review Committee (ARC) of CASLPM to determine whether the College's eligibility criteria has been met. This group of professionals will review all the applicable application information and will make an informed recommendation to the Registrar on proceeding with the registration of the applicant. The ARC meets as required every second month.

The ARC will make recommendations to the Registrar, who will make the final registration decision. The applicant may appeal the decision of the Registrar within 30 days of the notice of decision as outlined in the Appeals section of The Regulated Health Professions Act.

Canadian Entry-to-Practice Exam

*CASLPM applicants are currently not required to sit for the CETP examination; however, are encouraged to do so to ensure compatibility with practice in Canada.

If the applicant has been approved to write the CETP Exam, their name will be forwarded to the exam provider, Speech-Language & Audiology Canada (SAC). CASLPM will provide basic information to the exam enrollment page and applicants will be required to provide additional information regarding preferred exam location, language, etc., and pay the exam fee.

Applicants will have two years, from the date of written eligibility confirmation, and three attempts to successfully complete the CETP exam.
